NON TOXIC. TRUE GREEN PROCESS. NO HAZARD GREEN JET ADDITIONAL USES TO NORMAL DRYCLEANING

FIRE RESTORATION WORK - The Green-Jet is a powerful odor remover and is being very successfully used by restoration cleaners.

LEATHER - Since leather garments have a smooth and relatively non-porous surface, they will not absorb many stains. If need be, they can be wiped off with a soapy rag and then cleaned in the Green Jet to complete the cleaning. Dirty linings can be pre-spotted before cleaning in the Green Jet. A cleaner should be able to clean at least half of the leathers he now sends out for processing.

SUEDE - Suede has a very porous surface. If not deeply soiled, it can safely be cleaned in the Green Jet without any pre-treatment. As with leather garments, the linings can be pre-spotted before cleaning. After cleaning, the surface can be brushed with a stiff bristle to restore the finish. Bodily soiled suede garments can be wet-cleaned using the latest equipment and solutions.

TRIMS - All leather, suede, fur and plastic trimmed garments can be safely and successful cleaned in the Green Jet without an special precautions.

PILLOWS AND FEATHER BEDS - Designer and throw pillows can be cleaned in the Green Jet using the small or medium load setting and the large load setting for leather beds to surface clean, sanitize and deodorize.
